

VDE Approval on E-Series Breakers

VDE Approval Key for Products Selling in Europe

VDE is the German safety regulatory agency that tests products to the specific safety and performance standards required by that country. VDE standards are generally considered to be the most stringent standards enforced and are widely regarded as the “must have” approval, to sell products in Europe.

The VDE certified ratings:

Voltage	Phase	Poles	Current	Interrupting
125 VDC	-	1 and 2	0.1 to 100A	Icn 5000A
240 VAC	1	1 to 5	0.1 to 100A	Icn 5000A
240 VAC	3	2 to 5	0.1 to 100A	Icn 5000A
415 VAC	1 and 3	2 to 5	0.1 to 100A	Icn 4000A

Pole 5 must be a series trip voltage pole with ratings of 6 to 125 vdc or 6 to 240 VAC.
Voltage trip poles and switch only poles must be used in combination with current poles.
